Two strikes on Hartog

The testimony given by Antioch Police Officer George Broker at Kenneth Hartog's sentencing hearing was one of the factors considered by Judge William Block when he continued the hearing until Thursday, Sept. 30.

The defense and prosecution requested a continuance for the purpose of obtaining additional testimony for both sides.

Hartog is on probation after serving 20 weekends in jail in connection with the traffic death of Anne-Helene Kugler, an Antioch High School teacher, last fall.

Kugler died when Hartog's truck struck her while she was jogging on North Ave. in Antioch. Hartog had admittedly injected alcohol and drugs hours before the accident.

Broker's testimony was on his arrest of Hartog, along with two other people, for open transportation of alcohol, on Sept. 10. This was the second time Hartog had been caught violating his probation since he completed his jail sentence.

Hartog was arrested in April for being in a bar in Antioch and allegedly committed the second violation while awaiting sentencing on Sept. 16.

According to Assistant States Atty. Matt Chancey, no charges have been formally filed on the second probation violation but Broker's testimony was brought before Block for consideration when deciding on Hartog's sentence.

Chancey also claims to have come across new testimony that he also wants to come under consideration before the 20-year-old receives his sentence.

EPA next HOD stop

by GLORIA DAVIS

If anyone walking through the village of Antioch this last week felt that more smiling faces than usual were around, they had probably met up with some of the many Antioch residents who waged a tremendously successful fight against the expansion of the present landfill by Waste Management, Inc.

Successful so far that is. Even though the final vote tally at the Lake County Board meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 14, came up in favor of the citizens of the village with a 22 to 2 vote to deny the disposal company's application, Waste Management still has recourse to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

This pending action is almost certain to take place with Waste Management's Vice President Trig Bakkum stating, "We'll see you in court," when the smoke that the company tried to create with unsuccessful delay tactics had cleared.

The only two members of the Lake County Board that voted for acceptance of the application were Les Harman and Donald Strenger, both of Lake Forest.

Strenger just reiterated the nay-vote he had cast after sitting on the Lake County Pollution Control Hearing Committee that heard testimony pro and con from both the village of Antioch and Waste Management.

A happy Mayor Ray Toft said, "They were just grabbing at anything to get time to turn a few votes around."

Toft wrote individual letters to all the county board members urging them to deny the project.

Toft, at one time expressed his fears that the village and the county would turn the proposal down, but the state wouldn't.

"I don't see how the EPA could approve the expansion after such a heavy one sided vote that left little doubt in anyone's mind that the area did not want a new landfill, located practically in the center of the village.

"If Waste Management had come up with the "new" criteria sooner, they probably would have gotten some more time too but their last minute tactics seemed to serve only to lose support," said Toft.

Antioch not implicated by gambling informants

According to Lake County States Atty. Fred Foreman, more and more people are coming forward to tell of gambling operations in the county and more and more people are being implicated.

Meanwhile, back at the courthouse, the grand jury is still deliberating and is expected to return on Sept. 23 and 24 to hear more evidence.

Collette Johnson, 22, Antioch, has been granted immunity from prosecution for the testimony she has already given the grand jury which is under the direction of Illinois Atty. General Ty Fahner.

Johnson was one of 17 people arrested in the gambling raids on Sept. 10, in Grayslake, Ingleside, Waukegan and unincorporated Lake County.

Foreman said that he had heard no mention of any gambling in Antioch or of any Antioch residents' participation from any of the informants that are doing the talking.

"Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller keeps a pretty tight lid on things down there and keeps us informed," he said.

But Foreman said that many gambling operations in the western part of Lake County are being reported.

Skidmore: 'We didn't lie'

by GLORIA DAVIS

"The teachers were not lied to," said Antioch Grade School Supt. Don Skidmore.

He added that he didn't understand why they agreed to the contract in the first place.

He also responded to the teachers claim that they agreed to the contract because they sympathized with the "no money" claim of the board only to return to school and find that the non-teaching staff had received raises of six percent compared to their four percent.

"When you're working with a certain amount of money, a six percent raise given to a janitor that is making $10,000 is substantially less than that same six percent given to a teacher who is making in excess of $18,000," said Skidmore.

Although the Antioch Federation of Teachers agreed to the contract, ratified by the Antioch Grade School Board, they now are balking at the four percent pay raise they agreed to.

Although the teachers have changed their minds, the board of education was unanimous in its vote on Sept. 7, not to reopen teacher negotiations.

But on Sept. 9, 45 teachers met in rebellion just as unanimous, planning to attend the Sept. 21 board meeting in force when the school budget, which reportedly includes administration raises, will be discussed.

Skidmore said that there are approximately four points of the contract that seem to displease the teachers, including the lowering of the accumulative sick day numbers from 200 to 110 days.

"At this point I couldn't tell you whether or not the board will agree to talk to the teachers or not," he said.

Good news in The News

Expect board action on sewers, cops

The Antioch Village Board is expected to authorize advertisements for bids on the Oakwoods Knolls Storm Sewer Project, Phase Three, at the next regular meeting of the board on Monday, Sept. 20.

There is a $40,000 allocation for the project, the monies coming from a community block grant. The bids will be opened at a meeting at the village hall at 8 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 11.

Antioch Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz said that there was a possibility that the board will also authorize Village Atty. Ken Clark to draw up the annexation ordinance for 82.5 acres in the Little Silver Lake Subdivision owned by Al and Jacqueline Little.

Other expected board action, stemming from the discussion held at last week's committee meetings, is the hiring of Michael Volling, 22, as a full-time police officer.

Sterbenz added that the auditor will be present at Monday's board meeting to answer any of the board member's questions on the audit of the village books for 1981-82.

MODERN BRIDGEWORK

Question:
I heard from a friend that dentists can now make bridges without drilling teeth. Is this so?

Answer:
Until recently, to make a "permanent" (fixed) bridge, it was necessary to grind down the teeth adjacent to the missing tooth in order to cap them. The false tooth was then soldered between the caps that fit over these teeth. Because of advances in metallurgy and resins, it is sometimes possible to make a fixed bridge without capping teeth. With resin-bonded retainer bridges (the so-called Maryland bridge), there is little or no drilling necessary. The false tooth is attached to custom-made sleeves which fit around the adjacent teeth. These sleeves are held in place with adhesive resins. This new type of bridge can only be used in certain cases, but it is fast becoming an accepted way to replace teeth with minimal grinding of sound tooth structure.

IT'S ABOUT TIME TO HANG UP THE GLOVES.

Sure, you hate to see summer go. You'll miss mowing down the grass. Wiping out the weeds.

But think about the benefits.

No more getting knocked out by the heat...

the humidity. No more getting knocked out by the high cost of air conditioning either. At least not till next summer rolls around.

After all, autumn winds cool things down a lot. Air conditioners don't have to work as hard. Or as often. The demand for electricity goes down. Way down.

Since we have to make less, it costs us less to make. Soon or after September 14th, whenever your meter's read, it'll cost you less to buy. About a penny and a half less per kilowatthour. Down from nearly nine cents to roughly seven and a half cents. Which is more than a 15% savings.

It almost makes you glad to see winter come.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,
OPTOMETRIST

TIRED EYES

If you're experiencing tired eyes when you read for a long time or while doing close work on the job, you may need reading glasses.

This happens to a lot of people as they approach middle-age or pass the 40-year mark. If the problem is in your focusing muscles, that's natural enough. As most people get older, their focusing muscles get weaker. They have trouble reading.

When you're dining out, do you have difficulty reading the menu? Or do you feel eye strain when reading a newspaper, or magazine? Does any printed matter have to be held further away from your eyes than normal? Do you have to squint to read the fine print?

It's not worth the eye strain or headaches to put off getting glasses or contact lenses, if your eyes need help. Whether you're on the job or at home, you want to be able to see and read in comfort, without strain.

An eye examination is the only way you can be sure your eyes are getting all the help they need.

A Superior Way to Borrow

Confused About Loans? Don't be. Make It Simple with a Simple Interest Loan from First National Bank.

Why is Simple Interest Borrowing Better?

There are a number of advantages to Simple Interest Borrowing. Some of the important ones are:

- 1 You sign a note for only the exact amount of money you want to borrow. Anticipated interest will be disclosed on your loan.
- 2 You pay only simple interest on your monthly declining balance.
- 3 You pay interest for only the period of time you use the money. If you prepay you save money.
- 4 You may pay off the entire amount of your loan at any time without a prepayment penalty. Under other methods of borrowing, you can lose money if you pay off your loan early. Payments received will be credited to interest first, then principle.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

It was good to see the crowds of people that jammed the Rotary Bar-B-Que and Auction last Saturday night. Did you ever see anyone enjoy pork chops like Bud Sichowski!

Fall weather has hit Antioch even though its official entry will not be heralded for a few more weeks. Jacketed Antioch residents are often seen wending their way through the village streets especially during the cool evenings.

But maybe we'll have a few more warm days, after all how can the "Home of the Sequoits," go without an Indian Summer.

Charles and Patricia Shanks should be able to look forward to a few gifts made in Germany since their son, Pvt. Jay A. Shanks, who is a telecommunications specialist for Uncle Sam, has just arrived for duty in Giebelstadt, West Germany.

Oct. 8 and 9 are two days that old Annie Mae plans to go off her diet because I know that I won't be able to resist that good Lions Club Candy that will be spread all over town with the Lions' usual charitable roar.

Besides, gaining a little weight to help the blind and the deaf can do nothing but make me more attractive, right?

Volunteers are needed for the Meals on Wheels program. Anyone who can spare a few hours should contact the Chain of Lakes Senior Services.

George Giles, husband of former secretary Anne Giles, is in Victory Memorial Hospital. Emily Novotny, of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) friendly aid chairman, asked to be notified if any member of the AARP is ill. Call her at (312) 395-0725.

The next meeting of the AARP will be held at the Antioch Senior Center on Tuesday, Sept. 28. This will be a social meeting. A short presentation will be given by Red Cross representatives. Members are reminded that Antioch Chapter, AARP, meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Saw Marilyn Shimelug practically skipping through town the other day, all smiles.

This gal that worked so hard on Antioch's landfill problem said that it was wonderful to see the way everyone worked together for the good of the area and its people.

"It's great to see the village and the county working together too," she added.

"But don't quit now, it's not over yet," she cautioned, referring to Waste Management's threatened appeal.

Don't forget to shine up your bike and find a sponsor for the Cancer Bike-A-Thon on Sunday, Sept. 26.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: Sept. 18, 1952

Open house set for pastoral center

Members of the Antioch Community are cordially invited to attend an open house at the Antioch Pastoral Counseling Center on Sunday, Sept. 26, from 2 to 5 p.m., to commemorate the beginning of their third year of service to Antioch and the surrounding communities.

In September of 1980, Rev. Wayne W. Langrebe, a Lutheran, Sister Marge Kolb, a Catholic, and Rev. Colby Martin, a United Methodist, and Julian Newman, M.D., their psychiatric consultant, opened the Antioch Pastoral Counseling Center at 735 North Main St. in Antioch.

As director of the center Rev. Langrebe said, "we hope to make our center a permanent health facility in this area. As a pastoral counseling center staffed with religious professionals, with training and degrees in counseling and psychotherapy, we bring not only a high quality of therapy but a unique therapy to our clients."

"By that I mean we function from a "wholeistic" concept of treatment. To explain further, we take into account the client's total person and their total environment in assessing pathology and in the formulation of a treatment plan," he added.

We look at the person or the marriage or the family from an environmental, social, physical, mental, emotional, psychological and spiritual perspective. One simply cannot understand or treat people in isolation, but only as whole persons as they are living in their total environment," he added.

"Many of the people who come to us come "self-referred." We also receive many people from other professionals, doctors, lawyers but mostly clergy. The kind of counseling and psychotherapy we do here is primarily individual, marital and family. We do some teenage therapy and some drug counseling. Of course people come for all kinds of reasons to deal with all kinds of problems," Langrebe said.

According to the minister, a small counseling center like the one in Antioch is consistent with the trend today in delivering health services.

DeRemer to deal one-on-one basis

by GLORIA DAVIS

Antioch Postmaster Marianne DeRemer, Marty Kowalczyk and Postal Clerk Jean Irving met with Antioch Mayor Ray Toft to discuss any dissatisfaction connected with the service given at the Antioch Post Office.

This meeting was in answer to the objections to that services interrupted an area informative postal meeting at the State Bank of Antioch over a week ago.

DeRemer answered the objection made during that interruption by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Recupido, concerning the removal of four mailing boxes from the streets in Antioch last June.

"There were less than 50 letters a day in those boxes besides a large amount of trash that was being dumped in them," said DeRemer.

"That kind of volume does not warrant having them," she added.

DeRemer continued on to say that there were two drive-up mail boxes, one local and one for out-of-town mailing, located in the municipal parking lot by the water tower for convenient no-walk mailing, besides the fact that all carriers will pick up outgoing mail out of people's home mailboxes.

"I'm not out to do the minimum, I always do the very best I can," she said. She added that in order to expedite some of the counter traffic the post office would soon be getting parcel lock boxes.

Anyone receiving a package will find a key in their mailbox instead of the familiar pink slip. The key will be numbered and a mailed parcel can be retrieved by using the key in the correctly numbered box without ever having to go to the counter.

The keys will stick in the lock after the box is open.

Again, concerning the complained about "long wait" for counter service, DeRemer said that national postal standards call for a five minute wait for service.

"I don't believe Antioch exceeds this standard," she said.

The postmaster said that everyone is welcome to come to her at her office to discuss the "grins and the gripes," with her on a one-to-one basis.

In October, 44 post office boxes will be added to the lobby with one section being saved for business boxes only, hopefully allowing that mail to be gotten-up more quickly. That special attention is not possible now because the business and residential boxes are mixed together.

Toft said, "It was an interesting meeting. It sounds like she is trying to make the needed improvements."

PM&L has fun with Runyon characters

by GLORIA DAVIS

Damon Runyon's pals from Broadway and their "babes" are cavorting at the PM&L Theater in Antioch in fine style in its latest production of "Guys and Dolls".

Frank Loesser's 50's music sounds as good and is as up-to-date in the 80's as it was then.

The PM&L stage is filled with a chorus of resonant enthusiastic voices and the big productions numbers, "Guys and Dolls," "Sit Down You're Rockin' the Boat," and "Luck Be a Lady," do not disappoint the audience.

Mark Badke's performance as Sky Masterson is probably the stand-out in this production and some of his Broadway buddies played by Keith Boehm, Peter Thelen and Tom Hausman, who comes across in a walk-on part, do a lot to add to the evening's entertainment.

Rosaline Trusky as Sarah and Lorraine Ferguson as Miss Adelaide give a good balance in portraying the different ends of the Broadway-doll spectrum.

They are both at their best in the "Marry the Man Today," duet.

Ken Smouse, as usual, does well with the supporting role of Uncle Arvide, lending his rich tenor voice to one of the show's prettiest songs, "More I Cannot Wish You."

The sets, costumes and capable direction of Lou Jones all add up to a lively evening at the little theater in Antioch, coincidentally located just a block off of Broadway.

AARP members plan fall outings, programs

The members of the American Assn. of Retired Persons, Inc. (AARP), pledged allegiance to the flag and then sang "God Bless America" and the first meeting of the 1982-83 session was officially opened on Sept. 14 when Kate Ryners sounded the gavel in her new capacity as president of Antioch Chapter 387, A.A.R.P.

It was a large crowd, 140 members, including 19 guests, 13 of whom were to become members before the meeting was over.

Pat Kempf, new chairman of the kitchen committee, with the help of Alice Wald-weiler, served sweet rolls and coffee to the members prior to the meeting.

Glenn Petersen, program chairman, arrived early to sign up members for the Green Lake, WI tour. Members will board a bus at 6 a.m. on Oct. 1, and arrive in time for lunch at The Heidel House, followed by a boat trip on Green Lake to view the beautiful fall colors of the surrounding area.

All tickets were sold at the meeting and Glenn now has a waiting list in case of any cancellations.

Future trips planned by our program chairman include a day of shopping in November at the new Grand Ave. Mall in Milwaukee, WI. Also scheduled for the near future are trips to the Museum of Science and Industry and Chinatown in Chicago.

Florence Johnson has planned a white elephant auction sale on Oct. 26. Members were asked to donate only those items that are in good condition and workable. Many items sold at the last sale were found to be defective and had to be discarded by the buyers. We don't want this to happen again.

ACHS 'Tom Tom' gets first place awards

At the regular meeting of the Antioch Community High School Board of Education on Thursday, Sept. 16 students Kelly Brucks, Diane Jurgaitis, and Lori Noethling gave a report of their experiences at the Substance Abuse Seminar held this summer at Allerton Park, Monticello, Ill.

The students participated as representatives of the Antioch Community High School Peer Counseling Program. Kim Heath and Donna Skidmore also attended the program.

During the business conducted the board approved an update of the policy manuals and approved the purchase of a video recorder with slow-motion and stop-action capabilities.

Board members reported receiving positive comments from students of other schools as well as Antioch Community High School (ACHS) students regarding the Northwest Conference Sportsmanship Seminar hosted by ACHS Thursday, Sept. 9.

Principal Arthur Blecke reported that the 1981-82 Tom Tom (student newspaper) had received first place awards from The Kettle-Moraine Press Assn., the National Scholastic Press Assn., and The Columbia Scholastic Press Assn.

The latter award, sponsored by Columbia University, New York City, N.Y., is the most prestigious award which a school newspaper can receive. The adviser is Michael Gordy and some of the students responsible for the 1981-82 Tom Tom were: Dan Ropa, editor-in-chief; Denise Mattson, managing editor; and Roger Knowlton, business manager.

The official enrollment for the sixth day of school was reported as 1,666.

Saturday, Sept. 25.

It was the combination of the pass play from Tom Adams to Derek Olsen that sparked the Sequoits throughout the game. Not only did a 10-yard pass from Adams to Olsen, who was in the end zone, give Antioch the win, but the duo did it twice in earlier play for two more of Antioch's four touchdowns. Antioch's first score came in the second quarter when Adams tossed a four yard pass to Olsen and Olsen made the point after touch-down good.

They did it again in the third, this time on Adam's five yard pass. Olsen's kick was good again.

George Bessette put Antioch in the lead for a short time in the fourth quarter when he went across in a two yard run, on the fourth down, with goal to go.

Ex-candidate sentenced

Phil Burke, 54, Antioch, was sentenced to spend three months in prison for pointing a loaded pistol at a couple in an argument over a parking space at the Country House Restaurant in Antioch, in May.

Lake County Associate Circuit Court Judge Richard Christian sentenced Burke on Friday, Sept. 17, after he was found guilty of aggravated assault and unlawful use of weapons.

According to Burke he was at the restaurant for a meeting and a friend of his had taken his car from the parking space to test it for operating problems when the car in which the couple was in sped into the parking lot and tried to park in the space he was saving.

Burke claimed the couple threatened him first and when his friend returned he tossed him a souvenir machine gun which was inoperable and the pistol, both of which were in his car because he was in the process of moving them.

Burke said that he pointed the guns in self defense because his life had been threatened.

The charge for using the machine gun was dropped.

The couple claimed Burke pointed the pistol at them and threatened to blow their heads off so they found another parking place. They also said he reportedly the pistol at them as they entered the restaurant.

Burke, who made an unsuccessful bid for the office of Mayor of Antioch in 1981, was arrested when witnesses to the incident called the police.

Winnetka's big sound drowns Antioch out

The Antioch Viking Senior football team played an inspired Winnetka team, in Antioch, on Sunday, Sept. 19.

At half-time both teams were tied 6-6 but Winnetka came back in the second half of the game with two more touchdowns to beat Antioch 20-6.

Antioch's only score came when Mike DuBoesh completed a 10 yard pass to Joe Berndt but the point after touch-down attempt failed.

Jeff Nielsen at center and Jeff Huhnstock at guard were also offensive standouts.

Antioch's defense was boosted by the outstanding playing of Mike Kneip and Kirk Toth.

In another Viking game the Eagles took the Seahawks 31-0. Defensive standouts were Greg Hanson, Ed Ester, Kevin Hanrahan and Fred Locher.

The Raiders were blanked by the Warriors with Scott Meyers gaining over 100 rushing yards. Dan Williamson had eight tackles and both Ed Gorka and Brett Bennett played a fine defense.
